Call for Presentations Submission

Dear Prospective Conference Presenter,

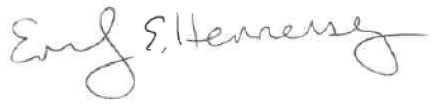

Human Resource Professionals of Central Pennsylvania (HRPCPA), an affiliate of the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM), is calling for presenters for our Annual Fall Conference on Wednesday, November 4, 2026, at the Penn Harris Hotel in Camp Hill, PA.

At HRPCPA, our mission is to empower Human Resource professionals in Central Pennsylvania to grow and succeed in their unique career paths by providing a dynamic forum for education, networking, and the exchange of innovative ideas. We are committed to fostering diversity, developing meaningful partnerships, and creating a platform for the discussion of key legal and legislative issues impacting HR management at the state and national levels. Through our affiliation with the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM), we strive to inspire membership, cultivate future leaders, and ensure open communication between SHRM and our members, advancing the HR profession for the benefit of all.

If you are interested in presenting at our Annual Fall Conference, we invite you to complete the attached Call for Presentations Submission. We encourage you to highlight the learning objectives attendees will receive as a result of attending your presentation. Our objective is to make our programs as interactive as possible, the emphasis shifting from information sharing to experiential learning. Call for Presentation Submissions that focus on learning objectives and have an interactive approach will have a greater probability of selection.

Please email your completed Call for Presentations Submission form to conference@hrpcpa.org by Friday, June 5, 2026. For more information about HRPCPA, please visit www.hrpcpa.org. For more information about SHRM, please visit www.shrm.org. If you have any questions about the HRPCPA's Annual 2026 Fall Conference, please contact me at conference@hrpcpa.org.

Sincerely,

Emily E. Hennessey, PHR
HRPCPA Board Member, Conference Director
